Leslie Sanazaro

Leslie is an active performer, singer-songwriter and pianist. A degreed musician and international touring singer, she released her first EP Stars in the Attic, in 2006. Since then she's become a well known and respected member of the music scene, has organized an international solo tour, gained radio airplay in the US, Canada and Europe and played over 70 shows in Asia in 2008.

Tim Session

Tim is one of the hottest up and coming singer songwriters in the St. Louis area and truly represents the best in the business. Proving once and for all that nice guys can finish first, fans recently selected Session as the "Best Male Vocalist" in the annual Riverfront Times "Best Of" edition. Still very relatable to his often diverse audiences, Session continuously packs venues all over town every night of the week.

Cameron Matthews

As a college freshman Matthews' career jumped into high gear when he won the MTVu Best Music on Campus competition. He was flown down to Austin, TX to perform on the same bill as the Rapture, Shiny Toy Guns, and The Shins. The post-graduate English major is currently working on several new projects with St. Louis producer Patrick Crecelius (Radical Sons, Fred Friction) and Lexington, KY's own Duane Lundy (Jim James of My Morning Jacket, Ben Sollee, These United States).

Nick Pagliari

Nick Pagliari's got the twang of Nashville in his voice and the spirit of Memphis in his soul. It's a combination that makes his songs indelible snapshots of life — ringing portraits of love, ambition, dreams, connections, and the rest of what matters. For Pagliari, what matters most is reaching people. He's done his job brilliantly on Please and Thank You, his second full-length CD. It follows 2007's EP Safe and Sound, whose title track was featured in the Hilary Swank movie P. S. I Love You.

Nick Howard

British singer/songwriter Nick Howard has received and experienced tremendous accolades both in the US and in his native UK. The music of Nick Howard has succeeded in entertaining audiences all over the world. A native of Brighton, England, Nick Howard is now a firmly rooted performer in the New York City music scene. Nick has opened for Jack Johnson, The White Tie Affair, Laura Warshauer, and Chamillionaire.
